PAR. I. Section 808 of the Social Security Act provides:

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, shall make and publish rules and regulations for the enforcement of this title.

Pursuant to the above-quoted provisions of law and other provisions of law, the following regulations are hereby prescribed:

ARTICLE I. Definitions.—As used in these regulations—

(a) The terms defined in paragraphs D and E, above, shall have the respective meanings therein assigned to them.

(b) Act means the Social Security Act (Public, No. 271, Seventy-fourth Congress; 49 Stat. 620).

(c) Employer means a person employing one or more employees.

(d) Employee means an employee performing services in employment. (See paragraphs D and E, above.)

(e) Social Security Board means the Board established pursuant to Title VII of the Act.

ART. 2. Taxes under Title VIII of the Act.—Section 801 of the Act imposes an income tax on every employee, referred to herein as the employees' tax. Section 802 (a) of the Act requires the employer to collect the employees' tax, by deducting the amount thereof from the wages of the employee when paid. Section 804 of the Act imposes an excise tax on every employer, referred to herein as the employers' tax. The employees' tax and the employers' tax become effective January 1, 1937, and are administered by the Bureau of Internal Revenue under the direction of the Secretary of the Treasury. These taxes will be collected by means of monthly tax returns to be filed by employers. Information returns will also be required of every employer, reporting the taxable wages which are paid to each of his employees. Employees are not required to make returns under Title VIII of the Act. Regulations 91, relating to the employees' tax and the employers' tax, set out the requirements with respect to tax returns, information returns, records, and payment of taxes under Title VIII, and contain provisions explaining in detail the application of such title. However, the regulations contained in this Treasury Decision set forth additional duties of employers and employees under Title VIII with respect to obtaining the assignment of numbers to be used by them for identification purposes in connection with the employees' tax and the employers' tax.

ART. 3. Assignment of identification numbers and account numbers in general.—An identifying number will be assigned to each employer and to each employee under Title VIII of the Social Security Act. The procedure for obtaining an assignment of such number is set forth in these regulations. The number to be assigned to an employer is hereby designated as an "identification number." The number to be assigned to an employee is hereby designated as an "account number." The identification number assigned to the employer and also the account number assigned to each of his employees shall be shown by the employer in his records, returns, and claims to the extent required by articles 406 and 412 of Regulations 91. The Postmaster General and the Social Security Board (and such of their officers and employees as they may designate) will receive applications for identification numbers and applications for account numbers and will assign such numbers.

ART. 4. Assignment of identification numbers to employers.—(a) Persons who are employers on November 16, 1936.—Every person who is an employer on November 16, 1936, shall file an employer's application for identification number on Form SS-4. The application shall be filed, in accordance with instructions on the form, with the postmaster from whose post office the business mail of the employer's establishment is delivered. If the employer has more than one establishment on November 16, 1936, the employer shall file a separate application for each establishment. The employer shall file each application under this paragraph on or before November 21, 1936. The term "establishment" as used in this article means each separate place of employment. For example: If X Company has two retail stores and a manufacturing plant in New York City, and a general office in Chicago, it has four establishments, that is, each of the two retail stores, the manufacturing plant, and the general office is a separate establishment.

(b) Persons who become employers after November 16, 1936.—Every person not an employer on November 16, 1936, who becomes an employer after such date, shall file an employer's application for identification number on Form SS-4. Each application under this paragraph shall be filed with the Social Security Board at Washington, D. C., or at any field office of the Board located in the area in which the headquarters of the employer is situated. The employer shall insert on line 3 of the application the date on which he became an employer, and shall file the application on or before the thirtieth day after such date.

(c) General provisions relating to applications for identification numbers.—Copies of the prescribed form, Form SS-4, may be obtained prior to January 1, 1937, at any post office. Between January 1, 1937, and March 31, 1937, both dates inclusive, copies of such form may be obtained at the Social Security Board, Washington, D. C., or at any field office of the Social Security Board, or at any post office. After March 31, 1937, copies of the form will be available at the Social Security Board, Washington, D. C., or at field offices of the Social Security Board. To the extent practicable in connection with applications to be filed on or before November 21, 1936, postmasters will deliver copies of the form to employers. However, an employer will not be excused from making an application because no application form has been furnished to him. Employers should request copies of the form in ample time to have their applications prepared and filed on or before the due date. Each employer shall carefully prepare his application so as to set forth fully and clearly the data therein called for. Each application shall be signed by the employer. If, however, the employer is not an individual, the application shall be signed by a member or responsible official of the employer having knowledge of the employer's affairs. Identification numbers will be assigned to employers in due course upon the basis of information reported on applications required under this article.

ART. 5. Assignment of account numbers to employees.—(a) Individuals who are employees on November 24, 1936.—Every individual who is an employee on November 24, 1936, shall file an application for an account number on Form SS-5. The application shall be filed, in accordance with instructions on the form, with any postmaster. The employee shall file the application on or before December 5, 1936.

(b) Individuals who become employees after November 24, 1936.—Every individual not an employee on November 24, 1936, who becomes an employee after such date, shall file an application for an account number on Form SS-5. The employee shall insert in the blank space at the end of line 13 of the application the date on which he became an employee, and shall file the application on or before the thirtieth day after such date. Each application under this paragraph shall be filed as follows:

(1) If filed before January 1, 1937, the application shall be filed with any postmaster.

(2) If filed during the period January 1, 1937, to March 31, 1937, both dates inclusive, the application shall be filed with any postmaster, or at any field office of the Social Security Board located in the area in which the employee works.

(3) If filed after March 31, 1937, the application shall be filed with the Social Security Board at Washington, D. C., or at any field office of the Social Security Board located in the area in which the employee works.

(c) Circumstances under which employers are required to fill out and file applications for employees.—If an individual who is an employee on the last day of the period covered by any information return (see articles 402 to 405, inclusive, of Regulations 91) has failed to file an application for an account number on Form SS-5, the employer shall file an application for the employee on or before the tenth day after such last day. If an employee has failed to file an application on Form SS-5 prior to the date he attains age 65, or the date he dies before attaining age 65, or the date he leaves the service of the employer, the employer shall file an application for the individual on or before the tenth day after such date. However, the employer shall not file an application for any employee who is not in his employ after December 31, 1936. An employee is not relieved from his duty to file an application on Form SS-5 by reason of his employer having filed an application for him. Every application filed by an employer under this paragraph shall be filed on Form SS-5. Each such application shall be filled out on the information and belief of the employer, setting out as fully and clearly as practicable the data therein called for. The employer shall insert on the form the reason why he filed the application, such as: "Employee still in my employ but failed to file application on or before _____, the last day covered by information return"; or "Employee died on _____, before attaining age 65, without filing application"; or "Employee attained age 65 on _____ without filing application"; or "Employee left my service on _____ without filing application." The employer shall sign each such application on the line provided on the form for the employee's signature, inserting after the signature the word "Employer." Each application under this paragraph shall be filed as follows:

tion return"; or "Employee died on _____, before attaining age 65, without filing application"; or "Employee attained age 65 on _____ without filing application"; or "Employee left my service on _____ without filing application." The employer shall sign each such application on the line provided on the form for the employee's signature, inserting after the signature the word "Employer." Each application under this paragraph shall be filed as follows:

without filing application." The employer shall sign each such application on the line provided on the form for the employee's signature, inserting after the signature the word "Employer." Each application under this paragraph shall be filed as follows:

(1) If filed before April 1, 1937, the application shall be filed with any postmaster, or at any field office of the Social Security Board located in the area in which the employee works.

(2) If filed after March 31, 1937, the application shall be filed with the Social Security Board at Washington, D. C., or at any field office of the Social Security Board located in the area in which the employee works.

(d) General provisions relating to applications for employee account numbers.—Copies of the prescribed form, Form SS-5, may be obtained prior to January 1, 1937, at any post office. Between January 1, 1937, and March 31, 1937, both dates inclusive, copies of such form may be obtained at the Social Security Board, Washington, D. C., or at any field office of the Social Security Board, or at any post office. After March 31, 1937, copies of the form will be available at the Social Security Board, Washington, D. C., or at field offices of the Social Security Board. To the extent practicable in connection with applications to be filed on or before December 5, 1936, the forms will be delivered to employers for distribution to employees. However, no employee or employer will be excused from making an application because an application form has not been furnished to him. Employees and employers should request copies of the form in ample time to have the applications prepared and filed on or before the due date. Each application shall be carefully prepared so as to set forth fully and clearly the data therein called for. Account numbers will be assigned to employees in due course upon the basis of information reported on applications required under this article.

ART. 6. Employees required to advise employers of account numbers.—Every employee shall advise every employer for whom he performs services what his account number is. Care must be exercised that the employer is advised of the correct number. Such advice shall be furnished to the employer as soon as the employee is notified of the assignment of an account number and thereafter as soon as the employee enters the employ of any employer. Any employee may have his account number changed at any time by applying to the Social Security Board and showing good reasons for a change. With that exception, only one account number will be assigned to an employee. The number so assigned shall be used by him even though he enters the employ of other employers.

[Docket No. A-39 O-39]

NOTICE OF HEARING WITH RESPECT TO PROPOSED MARKETING AGREEMENT AND PROPOSED ORDER REGULATING HANDLING OF ONIONS GROWN IN STATE OF UTAH

Whereas, under the Agricultural Adjustment Act, as amended, notice of hearing is required in connection with a proposed marketing agreement or a proposed order, and the General Regulations, Series A, No. 1, as amended, of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, provide for such notice; and

Whereas, the Secretary of Agriculture has reason to believe that the execution of a marketing agreement and the issuance of an order will tend to effectuate the declared policy of Title I of the Agricultural Adjustment Act, as amended, with respect to onions grown in the State of Utah;

Now, therefore, pursuant to the said act and said general regulations, notice is hereby given of a hearing to be held on a proposed marketing agreement and a proposed order regulating the handling of onions grown in the State of Utah, in the assembly room, State Department of Agriculture, Capitol Building, Salt Lake City, Utah, on November 14, 1936, at 9:30 a. m.

The proposed marketing agreement and order provide for the regulation of the handling of onions produced in the State of Utah, and, among other things provision is made for: (a) the establishment of a Control Board, (b) the regulation of shipments of onions by grades and sizes, and (c) assessments for expenses of administration.

This public hearing is for the purpose of receiving evidence as to the general economic conditions which may necessitate regulation in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act, as to the specific provisions which a marketing agreement and order should contain, and as to whether the proposed marketing agreement and the proposed order should also include provisions authorizing the limitation of shipments by means of period proration.

It is hereby declared that an emergency exists in the handling of onions in the aforesaid area, which requires a shorter period of notice than fifteen (15) days; and it is hereby determined that the period of notice given is reasonable under the circumstances.

Copies of the proposed marketing agreement and the proposed order may be inspected in or procured from the office of the Hearing Clerk, Room 4725, South Building, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING TO CONSIDER ADVISABILITY OF ESTABLISHING A DOMESTIC PLANT QUARANTINE FOR PURPOSE OF REQUIRING TREATMENT OF NARCISSUS BULBS AND OTHER KNOWN HOSTS OF THE BULB NEMATODE AS A PREREQUISITE TO INTERSTATE SHIPMENT

Notice is hereby given that, in accordance with the provisions of the Plant Quarantine Act of August 20, 1912 (37 Stat. 315), as amended, a public hearing will be held in Washington, D. C., in the Auditorium of the National Museum, at 10:00 a. m., on December 16, 1936, for the purpose of considering the advisability of providing by quarantine for such regulation of interstate movement of narcissus bulbs and other known hosts of the bulb eelworm as shall be deemed necessary to prevent the further spread of this pest within the continental United States.

In view of the apparent difficulty to determine the presence of eelworm by means of inspection, consideration will be given at this hearing to the desirability of requiring sterilization of domestic-grown narcissus bulbs, hyacinths, tulips, bulbous iris, amaryllis, bulbous begonias, and certain other bulbous plants other than food plants, all of which are known to be carriers of the bulb nematode.

Consideration of this action becomes necessary in order to afford American growers the same protection against infection from domestic-grown bulbs as will be given by the sterilization of foreign-grown narcissus, and the possible sterilization of other imported hosts of the eelworm, consideration of which will be reviewed at a conference being held prior to this public hearing.

Any person interested in the proposed quarantine may appear and be heard either in person or by attorney.

RAILROAD RETIREMENT BOARD.

RULES AND REGULATIONS GOVERNING EMPLOYEE REPRESENTATIVES UNDER THE RAILROAD RETIREMENT ACT OF 1935

SECTION A—DEFINITION OF TERMS AND QUOTATIONS FROM THE ACT

1. "The Act" wherever used herein means the Railroad Retirement Act of 1935;

2. The term "carrier" as used herein means any railroad or other company defined as a carrier in Section 1 (a) of the Railroad Retirement Act of 1935; and "carrier employment" means compensated service for any such railroad or company.

3. The term "qualified representative" is used to denote an "employee" representative as qualified and defined in the next succeeding paragraph and the following Section B; and "representative service" refers to service rendered by a person so qualified and defined.

4. Section 1 (b) of the Act defines "employee" to include "each officer or other official representative of an 'employee organization', herein called 'representative' who before or after the enactment hereof has performed service for a carrier, who at the enactment hereof or at any time after the enactment is or shall be duly designated and authorized to represent employees in accordance with the Railway Labor Act, and who, during, or immediately following employment by a carrier, is, shall be, or shall have been engaged in such representative service in behalf of such employees"; and

5. Section 4 of the Act provides that: "The annuity of a representative shall be determined according to such rules and regulations as the Board shall deem just and reasonable, and, as near as may be, shall be the same annuity as if the representative were still in the employ of his last former carrier."

SECTION B.—REPRESENTATIVES UNDER THE ACT

1. Representative service after passage of the Act, properly connected with carrier employment either before or after passage of the Act, is necessary to qualify as employee representative under the Act. A person is, therefore, a representative within the meaning of the Act if

(a) on or after August 29, 1935, he is an officer or other official representative of an organization of carrier employees, and

(b) the organization represents carrier employees, in accordance with the Railway Labor Act, in collective bargaining with carriers concerning wages, hours, grievances, representation, agreements, and other working conditions, and

(c) on or after August 29, 1935, as officer or official representative of the organization, he is duly designated and authorized by the organization to represent the employees, in accordance with the Railway Labor Act, in negotiations with carriers concerning wages, hours, grievances, representation, agreements, and other working conditions, and

(d) he has been at some time in the employ of a carrier, and

(e) during or immediately following his employment by a carrier, that is, without the intervention of another employment or occupation, whether before or after August 29, 1935, he is actively engaged in a position requiring such representative service.

2. Any officer or official representative of an employee organization who fulfills the required qualifications set out above, is a representative for purposes of this Act, irrespective of the title of the position held, and he continues to be such a representative during the entire period that he is so designated and authorized. The term "qualified representative" will hereafter be used in reference to persons meeting these requirements.

3. A full-time representative is one who for no part of his working time performs any compensated service for any carrier, excepting periodic reports for service required in some cases to qualify furloughs and leaves of absence, or for any employer in any other industry, but whose full time is given to representative service.

4. A part-time representative is one who represents carrier employees intermittently, or for only a portion of his working time, and who for the remainder of his working time is engaged ordinarily in active carrier service. Any question of classifying as a part-time representative any person who performs no active carrier service requires consideration by the Board of all the pertinent facts in each such particular case.

SECTION C.—SERVICE PERIOD AND ANNUITY RIGHTS

1. The annuity of a qualified representative shall be, as near as may be, the same annuity as if the representative were, during his periods of representative service, in the employ of the last carrier for which he rendered service.

2. In determining the service period to be used in computing the annuity of a qualified representative his periods of representative service, whether performed before or after August 29, 1935, shall be included.

3. The service period of any applicant for an annuity shall include (a) his periods of representative service as stated in paragraph 2 of this Section and (b) his periods of service for a carrier, whether before, during, or after the time in which he was a representative, except that no period shall be counted more than once.

4. The right to receive payment of an annuity accrues to a qualified representative only when he has formally retired from both carrier service and as a representative of carrier employees, and has relinquished all rights to return to such service.

5. The annuity of a representative shall be determined by multiplying the total number of years in his service period not in excess of 30, as stated in Section C of these regulations by the following percentages of his average monthly compensation: 2 per cent of the first $50, 1½ per cent of the next $100, and 1 per cent of the amount in excess of $150 but not above $300.

6. For carrier and/or representative service prior to March 1, 1936, the monthly compensation shall be the average monthly compensation in the base period 1924 through 1931.

7. The compensation of a part-time representative shall be the compensation earned by him from the carrier by which he is employed, except that for such time as he shall be absent from the carrier's payroll due to his engaging in employee organization service, he shall be credited with such earnings as may be determined he would have received had he continued in active service. In such determination he shall be credited with earnings equal to what was paid to another employee or employees who occupied his position or run for the period of such absence.

8. If the employee organization duties of a part-time representative require him to be absent from active carrier service for complete calendar months, such months shall be included in the representative's service period. The monthly compensation for such calendar months shall be determined in the same manner as is prescribed in paragraph 7 of this Section.

9. In computing the average monthly compensation of an applicant for an annuity who was a representative, the monthly compensation for so much of the base period 1924 through 1931 and the period after February 29, 1936, that an applicant was in the service of a carrier for compensation shall be the actual monthly compensation earned by him from the carrier; and for so much of those periods that the applicant was a representative, his monthly compensation may be determined by the following formula:

(a) If, during his representative service, the representative retains rights to a specific position or run, the monthly earnings of such position or run during his representative service shall be taken as his monthly compensation.

(b) If, during his representative service, the representative holds no rights to a specific position or run but does retain his standing on a seniority roster, then his monthly compensation may be determined by the monthly earnings of the employee next below the representative on the seniority roster during his representative service (which employee would normally advance by reason of the absence of the representative), which earnings may be taken as the monthly earnings of the representative, unless it be shown that such employee did not so advance; in which case some other employee performs the service the representative would have performed, the earnings of such employee may be taken as the monthly compensation of the representative. Where an employee whose earnings are used as basic earnings for the representative so absent from his position or run during the applicant's representative service because of illness or other reason that would not have attached to the representative had he been in active service, the earnings of the employee or employees who relieved in such position or run should be taken as the compensation of the representative for such periods.

(c) If the representative holds no rights to a specific position or run and his name is not retained on a seniority roster, other means of determining what he would have earned had he remained in the service of his last former carrier will be considered.

(d) If an understanding as to a compensation basis between such representative and the supervising officer of the carrier for the division, district or shop where such representative was last employed is possible, it may be submitted. If the position in which he last worked has been continued, the earnings of such position may be offered as a means of determining a compensation basis. Evidence, satisfactory to the Board, will be required in all cases.

(e) In every case it must be assumed that the representative would have continued in the same class of service in which last employed and that had he continued in the service he would have participated in changes in wages and conditions to the same degree as did those who so continued. No part of any monthly compensation in excess of $300 shall be considered.

(f) In cases of special or extraordinary circumstances where the application of any measures above stated shall appear to the Board to be unjust or unreasonable or not calculated to achieve the end stated in paragraph 1 of Section C, the Board may require a special computation of the compensation which will be just and reasonable and in accord with the purpose of paragraph 1.

10. If a representative applies for an annuity to be payable before his sixty-fifth birthday, the annuity shall be reduced in the same manner as the annuities of other employees under similar circumstances.

11. A representative may continue in full-time representative service after the age of sixty-five years, and beyond the age of seventy years without effecting any reduction in his annuity because of such continuance. He will not be required to file any agreement in protection of such rights.

12. A representative who continues in part-time carrier employment for compensation after the age of sixty-five years without filing a continuance in service agreement or who continues in carrier employment for compensation after the age of seventy years, will be subject to reduction in annuity in the same manner as the annuities of employees who are not representatives.

SECTION D—REPORTS

Every representative, whether full-time or part-time, shall file with the Board reports as required to show: (1) the facts upon which his status as a representative is based; (2) his compensation for periods in carrier employment, if any, for the eight years, 1924-1931 inclusive; and (3) for each quarter year, beginning March 1, 1936, his service and compensation in each month during the quarter.

Reports on (1) and (2) shall be filed with the Board as soon as possible after the forms are received, and the quarterly reports, (3), shall be filed with the Board within the month following the end of each quarter year.

By order of the Railroad Retirement Board.

[Revised October 27, 1936]

REGULATIONS AND INSTRUCTIONS GOVERNING THE APPLICATION OF SECTION 2 OF THE RAILROAD RETIREMENT ACT OF 1935 TO EMPLOYEES WHO CONTINUE IN CARRIER SERVICE BETWEEN THE AGES OF 65 AND 70

SEPTEMBER 10, 1936.

Section 2 of the Railroad Retirement Act of 1935 provides as follows:

Upon the attainment of sixty-five years of age and continuance in service by the employee (but not before the effective date of this Act), the annuity of such employee shall be reduced one-fiftieth for every year of such continued service beyond the age of sixty-five years; except that such reduction shall not apply during any period, beginning at the age of sixty-five and not extending beyond the age of seventy, while the employee is continued in employment under an agreement in writing between the carrier and employee filed with the Board, which agreement may provide for extension of employment for one year and thereafter in like manner for successive periods of one year each.

I

REGULATION ADOPTED BY THE BOARD

In view of the situation created by the refusal of carriers during the pendency of their suit challenging the constitutionality of the Railroad Retirement Act, to execute the Agreement to Continue in Service Forms prescribed by the Railroad Retirement Board and in order to conserve the funds of the United States appropriated for the payment of annuities under the Railroad Retirement Act and to protect employees against unexpected reductions in their annuities the Board, with the concurrence of the Acting Comptroller General of the United States, adopted on September 10 the following regulation:

1. Despite the pending litigation concerning the constitutionality of the Railroad Retirement Act of 1935, the filing of agreements as required by Section 2 of the Act is necessary to avoid reduction in the annuities of employees who continue in service after age 65 and after May 31, 1936.

2. R. R. B. Form AA3 is the form of agreement prescribed by the Board and should be used wherever possible.

3. Where an employee is in fact continued in service after age 65 with the consent of the carrier, but the carrier refuses to execute an agreement on Form AA3, the following documents may be filed in lieu thereof:

(a) An agreement to the same effect as that contained in Form AA3 but executed in another form and signed by the employee and the carrier; or

(b) Copy of a letter from the employee to the carrier stating the employee's date of birth and requesting the carrier to continue the employee in service (the copy to be signed by the employee) and the reply letter of the carrier granting the request; or

(c) A letter or notice from the carrier addressed to the employee or to its employees generally offering to continue the employee or employees in service beyond age 65 and a copy of a letter from the employee to the carrier stating his age and consenting to remain in service (the copy to be signed by the employee); or

(d) Form AA3 executed by the employee and an affidavit by the employee, sworn to before an officer authorized to administer oaths stating that the employee had approached a proper official of his employing carrier (naming him), that he told the official that he (the employee) had attained or was about to attain age 65, that he requested the official to have Form AA3 executed by the carrier, that the request was refused, that the employee was in fact continued in service by the carrier, and that the employee executed and left with the carrier a copy of the Form AA3.

4. (As amended October 27, 1936.) Employees who have performed or who in the future perform service after attainment of age 65 and before attainment of age 70, should file with the Railroad Retirement Board the agreements executed in accordance with paragraphs 2 or 3 of these regulations. Until further notice, the agreements should be sent in as quickly as possible in order that the Board may have complete information.

II

WHAT EMPLOYEES SHOULD DO

If employees who continue in service after age 65 and before age 70 wish to protect themselves against the reduction in annuity prescribed by Section 2 of the Act, they should comply with the foregoing regulation. Compliance with that regulation requires that the employee file with the Railroad Retirement Board, Washington, D. C.; the documents described in any one of the four subparagraphs of paragraph 3 of the above regulation.

If the employee wishes to file the documents described in subparagraph d of paragraph 3 of the above regulation he should proceed as follows:

1. If he does not already have an Agreement to Continue in Service Form, he should write to the Railroad Retirement Board, Washington, D. C., and request that he be sent a Form AA3.

2. He should then fill in and sign the Form AA3 in accordance with the instructions there given.

3. He should then present the executed Form AA3 to his employing officer, state his age, and request that the Form be executed by the carrier.

4. If his request is granted he should see to it that the completed form is sent promptly by the carrier or by himself to the Railroad Retirement Board, Washington, D. C.

5. If his request is refused, he should file with his carrier, by leaving with his employing officer or mailing to the carrier's office, a copy of Form AA3 filled out and signed by him. He should then go before a notary public or a county clerk or any other officer authorized by law to take oaths and fill out and swear to the affidavit R. R. B. Form AA3S.

6. He should annex the affidavit to Form AA3, properly filled out and signed by him, and mail the same promptly to the Railroad Retirement Board, Washington, D. C.

Employees who have already filed forms¹ will be notified by the Board whether their forms are incomplete and what steps they should take to complete them.

By order of the Railroad Retirement Board.
